

I support RM-10352 for the following reasons.

It would reserve a portion of the 160 meter spectrum for narrow modes that would encourage the development and use of narrow modes.

It would discourage wide mode interference with narrow mode operation within the reserved spectrum segment.

It would bring 160-meters into the same basic structure as other bands below UHF, where all other amateur bands have a narrow-mode-only spectrum segment.